Born in Montreal, Quebec Canada, Naomi started her acting career at the age of 8 where she had her first role in the French Canadian Television series Jack Carter.

But it's really at the age 10 years old that she fell in love with the art of acting and started to study the dramatic arts diligently.

She took part in many workshops and joined acting schools including the well known Montreal French acting school Danielle Fichaud and the Intentional Dreams school with acting coach Gilles Plouffe; she also studied at the Larry Moss Studio at the Edgemar Center in Santa Monica (on going) and also with drama coach Ken Lerner in North-Hollywood.

A very athletic young women, Naomi started gymnastics at the age of 3 where she twice won the Quebec gymnastic championship at the age of 12 making her the top of her age class in the discipline of floor and vault; also since the age of 3 she has been training in karate along with various martial arts techniques and sword play making her a very versatile performer.

Naomi's dedication to acting combined with her amazing physical ability makes her a very unique and sought after talent; perfectly bilingual in French and English, Naomi's work ethic is second to none.
